The Red Scare, UFO'S & Elvis: Long Beach Enters the Atomic Age

The baby boomer generation (1946–1964) grew up in a time of dramatic social change. Their experiences in the Cold War were very different from those of their parents. These kids of the atomic age wondered if they might be the last children on earth. They were raised on civil defense films, tales of nuclear annihilation, and a world taken over by communism. America had entered the atomic age. It was also a time of transition. Rock 'n' roll entered the scene, space flight became a reality, and the public learned not to blindly accept what the government told them. Author Claudine Burnett will discuss this fascinating era and its ties to Long Beach.

CLASSIC MOVIE NIGHT

Wednesday, October 3 ~ 7 pm

Wes Craven's 1982 cult classic is a crowd favorite. Dr. Alec Holland, hidden away in the depths of a murky swamp, is trying to create a new species - a combination of animal and plant capable of adapting and thriving in the harshest conditions. Unfortunately, he becomes subject of his own creation and is transformed into the "Swamp Thing."

Prior to the movie, Erin Aguiar, Sherman Library & Gardens Horticulture Manager will give a glimpse into the fascinating world of mysterious swamps and flora.
